grain brokers, & West Second South street, make public the following letters on the stock market:

Dick Bros. New York, say: "The New York market showed general strength today, nearly all the leading lesues making substantial gains and showing excited and heavy trading. Local traction stocks made spectacular advances which were later explained by the news that the Ryan control of Metropolitan and Metropolitan Securities had been purchased by Interboro interests. Because of absence of details the tractions sold off rather sharply after the news came out. Indications were that tomorrow's bank statement may not be as unfavorable as heretofore expected.

Hutton New York, says: "The strength in today's market can be attributed to the fact that in the early dealings this week, the speculative element here sold out their commitments, allowing stocks to pass to strong hands. Liquidation of weak accounts was quite complete, hence it required only a leader like Union Pacific. We look for a strong closing tomorrow, with good securities in the lead."

T. A. McIntyre & Co., New York, say.

tomorrow, with good securities in the lead."

T. A. McIntyre & Co., New York, say "Judging from today's developments, it certainly looks as though it is the intention of the large market interests to continue aggressive bull operations and it therefore looks as though the general market will be worked higher before the close of the year and sustained with the expectation of finally inducing the general public to come in."

Logan & Bryan, New York, say "An occasional little hesitation was witnessed through the day, but all attempts to force back prices met with defeat. The money movement would indicate a favorable bank statement tomorrow notwithstanding the loss to Chicago carly in the week to help out in the local financial disturbance. It was a big market, with interest well distributed, and the close was strong and higher throughout."

DECORATION FAD

Fall in Line and Make Their Shops Attractive for Christmas.

... USE HOLLY AND

EVERGREEN FREELY

Artistic Handiwork of Butcher Also Shown on Mutton and Beef.

It is well worth one's while to stop for a few minutes at the leading butcher stores up-town just now and take a glance at the Christmas decorations. This stores up-town just now and take a glance at the Christmas decorations. This year they are characterized by an absence of the bright colored tissue paper which formerly made up so important a part of the decoration of meat shops on any festive occasion. Instead, branches and sprays of holly, with respect of evergreen attractively arranged make the effect alto-ether prettier than was obtained in the old way.

As in days gone by, there is this year the same showing of carved designs on the sides of mutton and beef and the long rows of them, with ropes of white stuffed sausages, sprays of holly tacked here and there on the carcasses, make a really attractive appearance. Then there are the small pigs, the turkeys, the chickens and other good things to eat. At one Main street shop there is a unique display of hogsheads, chickens, head-cheese and pigs covered with a thin coating of paraffine, with decorations of flowers wrough in wax also. In addition is a small butcher shop, with all the paraphernalla of the craft, and small cuts of choice beef, in initiation, these also made of wax. Many stopped in their trip up or down Main street Friday to see this altogether unique display.

If there are any turkeys to be had today, they will not be given away. The retail price of the birds yesterday was 25 cents a pound: the wholesale 22 cents and inte last evening, 23 cents, 11 is said that even the frozen stock will bring 22 cents, wholesale, this morning, as the fresh stock is likely to be disposed of long before nightfall.

Grain men are looking for a rise in the price of onts within a very short tiffe.

Grain men are looking for a rise in the price of oats within a very short time. It is hard to get them at the price quoted, which is about $1.40 a hundred weight laid down in Salt Lake. The Montana oats cost $1.45 a hundred delivered in this city, and at the present price of oats here, $1.50 a hundred, it is impossible for the local dealers to handle them. Idaho, therefore, is supplying the present demand of the local consumers.

The greatest pressure was on the December option. This was due to the increasing local stocks, which it was said might compel longs to take large quantities in cash grain December contracts. Shipments from Argentina for the week were larger than the estimates, and primary receipts were unexpectedly heavy.
